

Undergraduate Research Opportunities in the Sociology Program: Fall 2018

Dr. Jennifer Givens:

Opportunities for undergraduates to get involved on a project collecting and analyzing media coverage of climate change in Utah and the Intermountain West. Focuses on concern about climate change, resistance to the reality of climate change, and action and resilience in the context of climate change.

Interested in getting involved? Contact Dr. Givens at jennifer.givens@usu.edu

Dr. Courtney Flint

Wellbeing in Utah Communities: Extending inquiry on wellbeing – a concept with roots in Ancient Greece, Dr. Courtney Flint is looking for undergraduate research assistants on a project to assess wellbeing in communities across the state of Utah. Research opportunities include conducting public intercept surveys and interviews across Utah, managing and analyzing data, and designing innovative reporting mechanisms.

Contact Dr. Courtney Flint at courtney.flint@usu.edu for more information.

Dr. Mehmet Soyer

Looking for undergraduate students who would like to get involved with research. Students interested in public opinion on the impacts (social, health, environmental) of fracking should contact Dr. Mehmet Soyer.
