

In the News: Alumna Holly Jeffcoat named Dean of SMU Libraries

Holly Jeffcoat

Holly Jeffcoat graduated with an M.S. in sociology from USU before earning her M.A. in library science at Arizona State University. She served as the director of the Charles Darwin Research Station, and has also held library positions at University of New Mexico and University of Connecticut, where she is an associate dean and served as the interim vice provost. As Dean of SMU Libraries, Jeffcoat will oversee DeGolyer Library, Fondren Library Center, Bridwell Library, and the Business Library. Read the full story here. Congratulations to Holly on her new position!